

Basic principle of Trombe wall construction

A Trombe wall is a high thermal mass, north-facing wall installed behind insulated glazing and with airspace between the two. The wall should be painted a dark colour to maximise heat absorption.