

Insulating a concrete slab-on-ground

Provide insulation under a concrete slab-on-ground by installing a layer of polystyrene over the damp-proof membrane either as a 1.2 m wide insulation at the perimeter only, or under the whole slab. A thermal break must be included around the slab edge to mitigate the thermal bridging.