

Externally insulated concrete or concrete masonry wall

Plastered and painted polystyrene sheets are applied here to the external face of a single skin concrete masonry wall. Adding insulation to the outside face of the wall allows the masonry to provide thermal mass that absorbs heat from inside the building.