

Garages dominating the street and reducing pedestrian safety

Garages set back behind the houses allowing a strong visual relationship with the street

Garages on the street frontage

The garage can be set back from the face of the house so it does not dominate the street scene. A vehicle access area that is fenced off from the rest of the site will help to keep children safe.