

Evapo-transpiration trenches on sloping ground

Evapo-transpiration trenches which distribute treated effluent from an on-site domestic wastewater system can be constructed on sloping ground provided the trenches run parallel to the contours. The effluent is absorbed into the topsoil, taken up by plants, or may evaporate.

© BRANZ 2007