

Cladding and insulation for steel-framed exterior wall

With steel framing a thermal break must be installed on the outer face of each framing member to restrict the effect of thermal bridging. This applies to all cladding types.

© BRANZ 2007

