

Rooflights and clerestory windows improve daylight levels in deep rooms

Because daylight illumination falls off with distance from the windows, adding clerestories, roof-lights or borrowed lights can improve the level and distribution of daylight.

© BRANZ 2007