

Concrete/grass paving

Rainwater runoff can be slowed by using impervious surfaces where water can infiltrate through gaps, such as concrete paving blocks installed in grass.

Porous and permeable surfaces are best suited to low traffic volume and low speed areas with a slope of 1:10 or less.

© BRANZ 2007